ASE WARRANTY POLICY

Products produced by Atmo-Seal, Inc. (ASE) carry an eighteen (18) month Limited Warranty against defects in workmanship and twelve months for defective materials. This warranty applies to products being used under normal operation conditions of the product and being used in accordance with the manufacturers' specifications and good and reasonable judgment as to the application of the product. "Good and reasonable judgment" will be ultimately defined by ASE.

During the warranty period, ASE will repair or replace non-working parts to restore the component to operational condition. ASE reserves the right to make whatever modifications it sees fit to return the product to an operational condition (per the original scope of the product and application) in a manner to be defined by ASE. This may include repair or replacement of any or all components or sub-components as defined by ASE.

Manufacturers' warranties of specific sub-components may – at ASE's discretion- dictate specific costs for replacement or warranty that may or may not be passed along to the end-user. These events will be handled on a case-by-case basis with the final arbiter being ASE.

Products will not be warranted if they have been used in a manner which is not in accordance with the design criteria or application, electrically, mechanically or otherwise improperly installed; have been modified or serviced by an unauthorized agent/company/organization or individual. Products that have been mishandled, damaged by outside forces, acts of god, abused or exposed to excessive conditions exceeding their original design specifications shall not be warranted.

All warranties are FOB our Facility in Troy, MI (or other locations ASE may occupy in the future). ASE assumes no responsibility for removal, transport or reinstallation of any product and is not responsible for any charges that may result from removal, shipment, service or reinstallation. ASE is not responsible for either incoming or outgoing shipping charges on any items it sells, even under warranty. Furthermore, any internal shipping charges incurred by ASE as a result of a warranty or non-warranty repair may be – at ASE’s discretion - be the responsibility of the claimant.

Claimants may incur additional charges in the event of field service. These may include, but are not limited to, travel, lodging, shipping and hourly and minimum charges in the event the claimant prefers field service or in-situ repairs. Again, charges and the ability/likelihood of a successful in-service repair shall be defined by ASE.

ASE will make a good an earnest effort to repair or reuse existing components in an attempt to lower repair costs (again, as defined by ASE) if warranties do or do not apply.

Warranty periods may be extended or reduced by ASE for specific applications and the warranty period above shall be considered a guideline.
